DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20, respectively, of U.S. Patent No. US 7152582. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations claimed in claims 1-20 of the application are stated in claims 1-20 of the US Patent, ^{which} ~~and~~ are more specific. The only difference between the application and the patent is that the patent specifically claims a gasoline liquid type, while the application claims a light oil liquid type. The application's claims can be considered broader since gasoline is a type of light oil/fuel oil, both of which are liquid petroleum products that can be used in an engine to generate power.

Art Unit: 2859

3. Claims 1-16, 18, and 20 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7, 18-24, 15, and 32-34, respectively, of U.S. Patent No. US 7168300. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations claimed in claims 1-16, 18, and 20 of the application are stated in claims 1-7, 18-24, 15, and 32-34, respectively, of the US Patent, ^{which} ~~and~~ are more specific (including alcohol content detecting limitations). The only difference between the application and the patent is that the patent specifically claims a gasoline liquid type, while the application claims a light oil liquid type. The application's claims can be considered broader since gasoline is a type of light oil/fuel oil, both of which are liquid petroleum products that can be used in an engine to generate power.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-20 would be allowable if proper terminal disclaimers are timely filed.
